i was just wondering what type of artwork you are wanting.
wether its pin up or sequential, or advertising stuff, web site decals, that kinda thing.
if you could give me some examples of what you're wanting. I checked out your site posted on your e-mail, and your message said you wanted some art for your website, but your website gave me no clues to what you are wanting.
i am interested in this job, and would like to know more about it.

Subject: Lets clear some things up.

ok, this is a big run around, i need to clear some things up.

1. why did you send me a e-mail saying you have given the job to someone else, but then a e-mail saying your picking me and no one else.

2. I made that sample about 10 minutes before i put it up on my site, it was made FOR you. the reason i put page o doom on it was to make it look like it had a header. Since you have given me NO idea what to put on it, or what your site it going to be about you have made it hard for me to do ANY thing.

3. As for getting back to you on things, its you who have not been getting back to me.

i understand your busy, but since your not giving me anything to work on its kinda hard. i don't mean to be rude, i just need a bit more info than your giving me. I check my e-mail about every 5 minutes.

i work a full time job and have a part time off work art company i run. I run my own company too, and come to think of it, i have no idea what your company is either.

4. to clear it up again, that sample was made FOR YOU. no one else in the world has seen that. not even my cat who sits upon my monitor.

5. I am requesting a e-mail that gives me the following information.

- what is your page going to be about?
- what is your page advertising?
- what kinda things are you wanting on your page.
- and ANYTHING you can think that will help me.

I am not trying to be rude, if i am coming off that way, i appologize. I am just used to working under clear instructions.

I can make page samples again and again, tons per day, and i'll put false titles on them like "page 'o' doom" or something to make it look like a actual page. Give me the information i need. I need the following information. I will get back to you whenever you get back to me. I appreciate the total freedom, but if a business man went to a contractor to build a building and all he said was "build me a tall building" with no instructions what so ever, chances are, the business man would not like the building. I hope you can understand.

Subject: read, carefully, I NEED INFO!

let me make a quick list of things i require to know of my customers.

1. what is it exactly your wanting me to do.
2. for what type of distribution are you wanting this for (example: what is your site mainly for?)
3. for web design, do you have a color scheme you're wanting.
4. for web design, do you have a overall theme you're wanting to go by these are simple questions.

but these are not:

what do these e-mails by YOU mean?

>1. But Jeff, did you make this sample for me??? I don't think so! Why don't you make a sample specially for me, to show me your talent?

>Looking forward,
>David

question: i made that sample for YOU and only YOU. it was made within 10 minutes of e-mailing you. so what are you asking me about?

>2. I'm sorry for I have given the job to someone else. needed a reply as soon as possible and you were late in delaying. Sorry.

question: at first i was mad since you were the one that barely back to me. I was checking my e-mail every 5 minutes, but then i got this e-mail and it made no sense since i received it last:

>I really love your work and I have chosen YOU, and no one else. So just show me what you can do.
>Greetings
>David

why tell me you have chosen someone else and yet say you chose me and no one else, please make up your mind.

3, then there is this one:

>no, no I still want you to do a sample, but then specially for me, ok?

answer: that sample was made FOR YOU.

i really don't understand what is going on here.

you ask me to make a sample for YOU and I DID. then you claim that the sample is a fake and not yours and still want me to make a (another) sample for you. i can make sample all the live long day, but unless you actually get it through to you that these sample are for you and ONLY you, then this isn't going to work.

I want a reply to this e-mail with exactly the stuff i want:
mainly:

WHAT EXACTLY AM I DOING FOR YOU! explain EVERYTHING.

i require these answers. if i can't get these answers then i will not take this job offer.
i have a smaller job for someone on hold right now because of this job. i want to do it, i do. but i require a little more info than you're giving me.

the 2 sample are SAMPLES! they arn't suppose to have your name or anything to do with your site on them, i simply making a template and i don't want to spend say 10 hours on a sample if your not going to like the template. if and when you like the template i will put the proper graphics or text, which ever the case may be, and THEN add them.

understand?

Subject: some ideas

you're wrong, net relationships can be great. it depends tho, some can be nasty, but don't call them ALL bad. i've have had a 3-4 year relationship (mind you, just as a friend) and its great. they've become one of the greatest friends i've had. some net relationships can be great. think about it as a futuristic pen pal thing. and i know tons of older people who met and married from pen palling.

but thanks for the color scheme, it'll make it alot easier.

i'm going to make some templates for site layout. not a picture of what the site has for features or anything, just a template. so NO, it won't have your name or anything on it.

also, is there a name for your site you're wanting? that way i could make a dummy logo, or perhaps if you like it, your actual logo for the site name. untill then i'll be using terms like the famous "page 'o' doom" that i put JUST to show what it's like with a title. also, do you want drawn stuff on the site? i could draw people or something.

give me some ideas. i know the artistic impression is left mainly to the artist, but you know...

I was thinking a graphic that has a young guy on one side and it has a word balloon coming from his computer screen that says "I'm a 23 year old female with a amazing body" (or something like that) and on the other side, we see who is typing it, a older overweight slob, and the balloon from his computer has "wow, you sound really good looking" (again, something like that.) which would show your "deceit".

remind me again, what is your site going to have? like what kinda features? what kinds of pages? i know you have the send email like your someone else kinda things, is that remaining on the website? pretend that you're pitching a website idea to me, telling me all the great things its going to have.

Thanks alot for your patience with me, I appreciate it and I realize that you must be a very busy person, working a full time job and running your own company. I'm sure you have tons of job offers and I'm sorry for running you around the street without a clue. I hope our net relationship doesn't become like the website i am building. Write me back soon.

for payment, it would also vary depending on how much "drawing" graphics you want, that and man hours on building the site. my site, for example was finished for the graphic end of it in a few hours.

i want this matter cleared up NOW!

Subject: Answer these or go away.

first i want to know what you mean by

"have you figured out who this is yet?"

what did you mean by that?

i am working on the mock site, but you still have to give me more information i want to know these:

1. what types of pages are you going to have? what kinds of sections?
2. give me some text to put on the main site.
3. are you maintaining the site after i send it to you?
4. what is the pure focus of your site?. I know its for fraud in net relationships, but explain what exactly your site is going to do besides tell people net relationships (in your opinon) are wrong.
5. how does this tie in with your current site, since you said you wanted to spruce up your site, not build a new one.
6. what do you expect the viewer of the site to think about it, i can try and work some meaning into it, but i need more info.

you have NOT answered everything i asked in prior e-mails. i do want this job, but i need more clearer understanding on whom i am working with. your last e-mail of who are you, has left at odds. am i being played for a fool? i want clear instructions on the next e-mail. not a poem like the other one, or the same "deciet fraud... blah blah" as 4 of them. i want answers to my questions, in detail. the last site i had a chance to do, the guy sent me 4 pages of straight text with information. He ended up cancelling his whole site altogether. but he gave me more than enough info.

that is what i want. i want so much info that i don't have to keep asking you for answers. flood me with information. so no clever poems or retells of deciет fraud, i want answers to my site. the answers arn't hard for you to tell me. also, you also failed to tell me what you feel is a good payment for this. i don't want to waste my time on a small payment. also, i hope you understand i work on a recieve payment, then send file format. I don't send any files untill i recieve full payment. i have had NO PROBLEM with any customer with this format. I am not wanting any less than 50 US for this job. From what i can see with what your site will have, it will take approx. 5 hours to make. that does not include any drawings i would do, if your wanting pictures.

also, do you want that picture i told you about a few e-mails back. it seems you failed to even acknowledge that question. yes, i do check my e-mail every 5 minutes WHEN I AM ON THE COMPUTER! i have a full time job, as well as a art company to run. i'm not on the computer 24/7 like you must be thinking. I haven't been on the computer for past few days since my parents were in town. they drive around the states now, so i barely see them anymore.

Like i said, i do want this job, i just need these questions answered. if on the next e-mail, i mean THE REPLY TO THIS E-MAIL, if they are not on the next e-mail, i will drop this offer. I am tired of my questions not being answered.

honestly. can i ask you what you problem is?

if the laughing during that phone call really pissed you off, then i'm sorry.

i did not mean to laugh at your situation. i was laughing at the fact we could hear someone way across the room on a cellphone. we were not laughing at your state of mind, but at the volume of the phone. if this hurt you, i'm sorry. i don't want to have this continue. i don't. i am sorry.

is that what you want? a apology?
if it is, I am sorry.

if it's not, then i guess there is nothing i can do.

its great that you have money, and its fabulus you have a kid.
that's your life.
not mine.

sure i would like money, who wouldn't?
but the fact i don't have it doesn't make my life any less enjoyable for me.

you drive a fancy car? good for you. i'm not a big car person, you know that. but the fact that you finally got one, good job for you.

its hard to believe that you'd be bugging me, i mean i tried to be a friend to you long ago. the fourplex was in my name, my dad had found the place, so inturn after letting you stay there for those months, giving you a place to stay, your still bugging me?

having my dad help you guys try and get your car started, hell, me you and elisa trying to push your car to our place, you still bug me?

help cleaning your and shawn's trailer, so you can get your desposit back, you still bug me?

i think i've done a great deal at the time to deserve your friendship, do i want it now? no. i have moved past all that stuff. i'm trying to live my life now. i'm not saying i want to enemies, i'm just saying you live your life, i'll live mine, and away from each other.

so, if you could stop the hate mails and messages, go raise your kid. let that kid grow up having a father they can like, one that they know doesn't bother people. is that too hard to ask?

for all its worth, i am sorry for anything i have done.
lets just end this ok? surely you can be mature about this.
i'm not just bullshitting with you, ok? i am serious, i am sorry.
